JOLANDA "JO" JONES

IS OUR CHAMPION AT CITY HALL

Jo overcame a childhood of poverty to become a four-time national track champion, Rhodes Scholar nominee and the University of Houston's Female Athlete of the Century.

Jo graduated magna cum laude from the University of Houston and went on to earn her law degree from the University of Houston Law Center.

As a successful businesswoman, lawyer and homeowner, and most importantly, a mother, Houston's City Council Member Jolanda "Jo" Jones is fighting for safer, stronger neighborhoods and a better quality of life for all Houstonians.

▶ A CHAMPION FOR FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY

Jo knows that, in this economic downturn, we must protect vital city services without raising taxes. That is why she will continue to be a watchdog on city spending. Jo fought waste and poor performance in Houston's Housing Department, saving our city millions of federal dollars.

▶ A CHAMPION FOR OUR QUALITY OF LIFE

Jo wants to make sure Houston remains the best place in America for families. That is why she fought against polluting businesses, "hot sheet" motels near our neighborhoods and unsightly billboards. And Jo fought to protect property rights for Houstonians living in the flood plain.

▶ A CHAMPION FOR NEIGHBORHOOD SAFETY

Jo supports more police cadet classes — to make sure we have enough officers on our streets — and more training for police officers to make sure our officers are doing their jobs effectively, efficiently and fairly.
